BOOK SYNOPSIS

This book considers patterns of womens employment in the period 1700-1850. Focusing on the county of Essex, material on the worsted industry, agriculture, fashion trades, service, prostitution, and marriage and family life will shed light on contemporary debates in history such as the sexual division of labour, controversy over continuity or change in womens employment, the importance of ideas of separate spheres and domestic ideology, and the overall effects of capitalism on womens employment.
